DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed November 9, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding applicant's argument on page 2 filed on November 9, 2006, which pertains to Osamu not disclosing the gas forced to flow across the grating face.

Paragraph [0003] Osamu clearly discloses the conventional trouble of spraying gas on the face of a grating, which implies to a person of ordinary skill in the art a device including a grating and forcing a gas on the face of the grating. The fact that Osamu has provided a solution to a conventional problem does not detract from the device being conventional as implied by Osamu. Therefore, Osamu does imply the structure recited in claim 15 and the method recited in claim 46, thereby the rejection will be maintained and made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15-17 and 46-48 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osamu et al (JP 05-167172).

Regarding claims 15-17 and 46-48,

In paragraph [0002] and [0003] Osamu et al discloses and implies of conventional prior art which include narrow band components [applicant's grating], where purge gas is directly sprayed on the components [applicant's front face] to reduce thermal load or prolong the components life and describes the gas is sprayed on the front face of a grating. Paragraph [0011] discloses the use of inert gas such as nitrogen or helium. Paragraph [0017] discloses gas flow of 5 or less 1/min.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use the well known technique of spraying a gas directly on the narrow band components, as described in the conventional prior art because it will prolong the life of the component.

Furthermore, in accordance with MPEP 2141.02 VI. PRIOR ART MUST BE CONSIDERED IN ITS ENTIRETY, INCLUDING DISCLOSURES THAT TEACH AWAY FROM THE CLAIMS.

Osamu et al discloses beam fluctuations, when the gas is sprayed on the face of the grating, but also discloses prolonging the life of the component. In the instant application claims 15 and 46 recite limitations pertaining to flowing a gas on the face of the grating, which as described by Osamu et al, will also cause beam fluctuations; therefore the subject matter of claims 15 and 46 are obvious over the disclosure of Osamu et al thereby the rejection is deem proper.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 15-49 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,778,548. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 15-49 are broader in scope than the patented claims 1-12.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
